

Terms and Conditions:
The Dreamers Photography Contest For Kids

By submitting your work to The Dreamers, you agree to the terms and conditions outlined below.

The Dreamers reserves the right to reject entries lacking required information or failing to meet eligibility criteria, without entering into further discussions about the jury's decisions.

Entries must be directly submitted by entrants with signed parental authorization for minors.

The jury's decisions are final.

While the copyright of all submitted work for The Dreamers remains with respective entrants, entrants grant The Dreamers a worldwide, irrevocable, and perpetual license to reproduce representative examples of the submitted entries in any publications, websites, and/or promotional materials, strictly in connection with The Dreamers Contest and with reference to the photographer as relevant in each case.

Details of specific entries may be, at the discretion of The Dreamers, released to the press to promote The Dreamers contest, even before the announcement of the shortlist for the prize, and may be used to promote the call for entries the following year.

Applicants warrant that the entry submission is the original work of the entrant, and as such, the entrant is the sole and exclusive owner and rights holder of the submitted work. Each entrant agrees not to submit any entry that (1) infringes any third party's proprietary rights, intellectual property rights, industrial property rights, personal or moral rights, or any other rights, including, without limitation, copyright, trademark, patent, trade secret, privacy, publicity, or confidentiality obligations; and (2) otherwise violates the applicable state, federal, provincial, or local law.

No exceptions will be made for late submissions.

By submitting to The Dreamers contest, you agree to receive news and other emails from The Dreamers.

The organizer of The Dreamers contest is RÊVE Association and is the only representative of the contest. The association can be contacted by email connect@thedreamers.life

By submitting to The Dreamers, you agree to the terms and conditions listed above.